

BATTLE OF BALLOTS ON IN NEW JERSEY

Taft and Roosevelt Forces Have Made
Hard Fight to Secure Delegates.

Trenton, N. J., May 28.—New Jersey voters are casting their ballots in a preferential primary today, following the bitterest political campaign the state has ever known. Politicians here believe that today's voting is the death grapple of Taft and Roosevelt, and that the winner will be the man who will capture the republican presidential nomination. President Taft's friends continue confident, but there is a tendency indicating that if he should fall today there will be a great rush to get aboard the band wagon of some compromise candidate on the part of the Taft men.

Franklin Murphy, former governor of the state, predicts that Taft will get twenty of the twenty-eight delegates from New Jersey, while some of the Taft men claim he will get all.

Borden D. Whiting, head of the New Jersey Roosevelt League, said: "We will win the entire New Jersey delegation for Roosevelt. We have a complete organization in every county that will be busy all day bringing out the Roosevelt vote, and we will sweep the state more thoroughly than Pennsylvania. Our reports are based on carefully compiled figures from every county, and in saying that Roosevelt is a certain victory I am not indulging in guesswork."

The democrats also have a fight on their hands almost as vigorous as that in the republican camp and which will be decided by the democratic voters today. It is a battle between the Wilson and anti-Wilson forces, and the latter are so well organized that the governor has had a hard struggle and is by no means certain of victory, although the indications this morning are that he will probably squeeze through. The opposition to Wilson has been led by former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., and former State Chairman James R. Nugent, both influential democrats.

John L. Armitage, president of the Woodrow Wilson League, is confident that the governor will carry his own state. He said: "I have seen no indications of the breaking down of Wilson sentiment. Reports from all over the state show that it continues strong, and it looks like a complete and sweeping victory for Governor Wilson."

"Wilson is beaten and to a frazzle," declared the governor's arch political enemy, James R. Nugent. "We will elect the four delegates at large and all of the twenty-four congressional district delegates. We don't consider that there is a chance for Wilson to save a single district out of the landslide that will cover him and his presidential ambitions today. Beaten in his own state, he will cease to be considered in the presidential running."

HOUSTON MARKET REVIEW

Houston, Texas, May 28.—The potato movement is assuming large proportions in the Houston market. The result is a steady decline in price. The first of the week the price had declined to $1.00 per bushel, while it is predicted in a few days it will drop to 70¢@80¢. Likewise vegetables are getting so plentiful they are glutting the market. Cucumbers and squash, for instance, are too numerous for the trade. Texas tomatoes are replacing the Mexican variety and they are meeting a ready demand. They are the product principally of the Brownsville country.

Texas peaches are beginning to move and the latter part of this week the market will be well supplied. The peach price rules about $1.25 per crate. Indications point to a large crop.

Larger chickens are in demand on the Houston produce row. Too many broilers are the complaint of the commission merchants. For broilers $2.00 @3.00 per dozen is the best price obtainable to the trade. Hens are quoted at $4.50@6.00 to the trade and are going rapidly. Receipts are fairly liberal for the season.

A feature of the week in the markets is the cotton department. Throughout last week the best of weather conditions have prevailed over the entire belt, which allowed planting to be brought to completion over a large area. More than ordinary good stands are reported as the result of the moist soil and seasonably warm temperatures. In the earlier sections chopping out of the crop progressed at a rapid rate.

Admirable weather has prevailed all over Texas for every kind of plant life, reports from the various sections show. Cotton is well up and the corn crop shows the best predictions in years.

Outs and Ins of London.

When the late Franklin Fyles first visited London he told his traveling companion as they rose from breakfast the first morning that he would have to be gone most of the day. "I've got to see a doctor and a lawyer to whom I have cards of introduction," he explained, "and there are a couple of dramatic critics here who've written me to call as soon as I reached town. Then I'm going to hunt up Goldsmith's grave down in Temple Gardens. I'd rather see that than any other one thing in England."

A few minutes past 10 Mr. Fyles walked into the hotel again, and to his friend's surprised look, merely said: "Doctor and lawyer and critics all out. Only man at home was Oliver."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Found Imitation Difficult.

Bert, a Wabash freshman, closed a letter to his cousin Joe, five years old, by saying, "Now I must quit and write five pages on Esther."

The next day his father found Joe armed with tablet and pencil trying to hold down his young brother, Robert, and said to him, "Joe, what are you doing?"

"I'm trying to write five pages on Bob, but he won't be still," replied the little fellow.—Indianapolis News.

First Drop Curtain Sign.

It is very seldom nowadays that we catch a glimpse of advertising signs on the drop curtains of any New York production, and yet time was when this method of advertising was a source of revenue to the manager, and curtains were literally covered with signs. It is related that one of the foremost producers along Broadway some twenty-five years ago, while putting on a big musical play, discovered that his funds were running low and he was unable to raise a loan. One of the scenes in the play represented Union square, at that time the first class retail center of New York city. He had an idea. He went to merchants whose places of business were on Union square and proposed to show their stores in his scene and with their signs plainly in sight, which would be a good ad. The suggestion was readily accepted, and the producer got all the money he required for bringing out his play and a great deal more.—New York Telegraph.

Why He Went on the Bench.

At a dinner given by a chapter of Masons one of the leading speakers of the evening was introduced with special emphasis on the fact that he was a judge, also that he was a baseball fan and had been at one time an enthusiastic member of an amateur team. The judge received his introduction with calmness and responded: "In our great national game if a striker misses a ball he gets a seat on the bench. I missed the ball."—New York Press.

WHAT SAVED HER LIFE

Mrs. Martin Tells About a Painful Experience that Might Have Ended Seriously.

Rivesville, W. Va.—Mrs. Dora Martin, in a letter from Rivesville, writes: "For three years, I suffered with womanly troubles, and had pains in my back and side. I was nervous and could not sleep at night."

The doctor could not help me. He said I would have to be operated on before I could get better. I thought I would try using Cardui.

Now, I am entirely well. I am sure Cardui saved my life. I will never be without Cardui in my home. I recommend it to my friends."

For fifty years, Cardui has been relieving pain and distress caused by womanly trouble. It will surely help you. It goes to the spot—reaches the trouble—relieves the symptoms, and drives away the cause.

If you suffer from any symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. Your druggist sells and recommends it. Get a bottle from him today.
